

ABSTRACT

A puzzle comprising six oblong parts in rectangular cross-section, each part having at least one recess and each part having a recess or recesses different than 5 every other part, the parts being capable of assembly in a manner to form a three-dimensional cruciform configuration of three blocks mutually intersecting at right angles.